FEAR TO GIVE IMMUNITY.

Federal Officers Will Not Call Oil Trust Heads.

That the President is highly pleased with the progress of the investigation into the methods of the Standard Oil Company in the conduction of its business, is pretty well understood by those in touch with the White House. Frank B. Kellogg, who has been conducting the inquiry, with Attorney General Bonaparte, was in conference with the President on Saturday, and it is intimated that a course of action for the future conduct of the investigation was mapped out, According to the information at hand the inquiry may go without giving immunity to the heads of the oil trust. It is pretty generally conceded that Judge Landis' action in calling John D. Rockefeller, titular head of the corporation, before the Federal bench, in Chicago, in connection with the Alton Railroad rqat Richmond, Va., asking President Recorded to have the custom of the payment of admission fees to Mount Vernon with criminal prosecution against Rockeabolished, has not yet been received at feller, should they find it practicable. the White House. It would be hard to imagine an epitaph which a good citizen would be more anxous to deserve or one which would more happily describe the qualities of that great and good citizen whose life we here commemorate. How Inscription Was Chosen.

There is a singular appropriateness in the inscription on his monument. Mr. Cortelyou, whose relations with him were of such close intimacy, gives me the following information about it: On the President's trip to the Pacific slope in the spring of 1961, President Wheeler, of the University of California, conferred Wrongdoing is confued to no class. Good and evil are to be found among both rich and poor, and in drawing the line among our fellows we must draw it on conduct and not on worldly possessions. In the abstract most of us will admit this. In the concrete we can act upon such doctrine only if we really upon such doctrine only if we really have knowledge of and sympathy with one another.

Feit Kindly Toward All.

If both the wage-worker and the capialist are able to enter each into the witness and will at once take action upon other's life, to meet him so as to get nto genuine sympathy with him, most of the misunderstanding between them will lisappear, and its place will be taken by judgment broader, juster, more kindly nd more generous; for each will find in ne other the same essential human atributes that exist in himself.

It was President McKinley's peculiar clory that in actual practice he realized his as it is given to but few men to ealize it; that his broad and deep sym-pathies made him feel a genuine sense of oneness with all his fellow-Americans, whatever their station or work in life, so that to his soul they were all joined with him in a great, brotherly democracy of the spirit.

It is not given to many of us in our lives actually to fealize this attitude to the extent that he did; but we can at least have it before us as the goal of our endeavor, and by so doing we shall pay honor better than in any other way to the memory of the dead President whose services in life we this day commemorate.

All is confusion in our warerooms-painters, carpenters, and builders are being rushed to their limit, so as to have our double building ready for occupancy at the earliest moment. We are suffering no end of inconvenience by having our warerooms upset at this season; dust and dirt are the worst enemies of polished pianos. Had we known two months ago that we'd get the Posner store as an annex we would have arranged the shipment of our new fall stock differently. Goods are arriving every day. Late on Saturday we received
